SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Marines fought their way into a Communist troop training camp 20 miles southwest of Da Nang today while others, farther north, battled a force of North Vietnamese regulars. The Americans were reported to have killed 211 of the enemy. Their own casualties were termed light.

Several hundred Leathernecks attacked the training camp, where guerrillas and North Vietnamese army men mingled. A spokesman estimated the enemy totaled about a battalion — perhaps 600 men — and said the Communist fire was extremely heavy.

A radio report from Lt. Col. Victor Ohanesian of New York City said his men burned 10 buildings and destroyed a large store of rice at the camp. A large cave and tunnel complex was uncovered.

The Marines counted 44 Communist dead.

The other action developed in a hunt for Communists along infiltration routes south of the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam. Marines fought a heavy 12-hour battle with North Vietnamese troops overnight.

U.S. spokesmen said 17 of the enemy died in this fight and about 150 others were killed from a detachment of 250 spotted pulling away from the combat area this morning.

Pentagon Plans Aim To Salvage Rejects

Auto Workers' Rally Protests Wage Rebuff

DETROIT (AP) — Skilled United Auto Workers demonstrate today at Chrysler Corp. headquarters to protest refusal of the Big Three car makers to reopen labor contracts.

The tradesmen, rejected Monday in their bid to reopen contracts to negotiate their demands for a 50-cent hourly pay raise, planned to march for four hours at the Chrysler offices.

Joe Zappa, an officer of the UAW's Chrysler Local 212, said representatives of skilled workers in 22 Detroit-area locals of the UAW called for the demonstration.

Only off-duty employees were being asked to participate, he said, but it was expected some skilled tradesmen might not go to work in order to participate in the demonstration.

Chrysler, General Motors Corp. and Ford Motor Co. declined Monday to discuss re-opening of skilled trades wages in their contracts with the UAW. The pacts will expire Sept. 6, 1967.

One concern among industry officials about any reopening of the contract was that unskilled and semiskilled production workers might also call for renegotiation of present contract wages.

There are nearly 100,000 skilled workers and 600,000 other production workers in the Big Three.

Plans for the demonstration were formed by the 51 an Hour Now Steering Committee, comprised of UAW skilled tradesmen.

Its chairman, Christopher J. Manning, said: "The refusal of the Big Three to open the wage agreement on behalf of skilled trades has spurred the committee to further courses of action and has also generated more determination in the ranks to unite in this struggle."

Manning declined to say what the "further courses of action" might be.

The three auto firms, in rejecting the reopening requests, cited automatic pay hikes and cost-of-living increases which will take effect next month.

The raises coming due under the present contracts will boost pay scales from 11.5 cents an hour to 12.5 cents an hour.

Lake Cargoes Up In July Over '65

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Grain, coal and iron ore shipments on the Great Lakes last month totaled 20,767,128 net tons, compared with 15,982,018 tons in July of last year, the Lake Carriers' Association reported today.

Grain cargoes of 2,855,431 tons last month set a record for July and compared with 2,413,650 tons in the corresponding month of 1965. Coal shipments of 5,569,504 tons, a nine-year high for the month, compared with 5,175,439 tons in July of 1965.

Iron ore cargoes last month dropped to 12,392,263 tons from 12,992,929 tons in July last year. Shipments of the three commodities this year through July 31 totaled 77,229,024 tons, compared with 70,766,956 tons in the first seven months of 1965.

McKee was born in Detroit and received his law degree from the Detroit College of Law in 1937. He is vice president of the Wisconsin & Michigan Steamship Co. and secretary of San Products, Inc.

On the advisory board he replaces Dr. N. R. Danielian. Members of the board receive $50 per day when actually employed and are appointed for an indefinite term. The nomination must be approved by the Senate.

Search Phelps-Dodge Fort Wayne Building Rubble For 3 Bodies

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Giant cranes clawed at the rubble of a wire factory's executive building today in search of three bodies believed buried by a massive explosion.

Two bodies were removed after the blast Tuesday. Officials of the Phelps-Dodge Copper Products Corp. said they were certain the death toll would not exceed five.

Unofficial estimates of the loss were more than $5 million. Two persons aiding in rescue operations were stricken with fatal heart attacks.

Eighteen persons were injured, three of them critically. Most of the building's 90 employees had left for lunch shortly before the explosion tore into the midsection of the two-story structure.

Earl Smith, 45, manager of the firm's organic research laboratory was believed climbing the stairs to attend an executive luncheon when the explosion occurred. He was presumed dead.

Eight other executives scheduled to attend the luncheon had not gathered in the upstairs dining room. Some employees had come to work.

Russia Launches Moon Satellite

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union launched an unmanned satellite, Luna 11, toward the moon today.

After the launch, the Rev. Jesse Jackson told newsmen, "You ask me if it (the march) was successful. You don't get successful marches on the basis of how many people yelled or threw things at you. When we can go to any real estate office in Chicago and find an apartment or buy a house, that's what I call success."

Special Effort Seeks To Bring Youths To Par

WASHINGTON (AP) — The armed forces will embark in October on a special training effort designed to bring up to required military standards many poorly educated or physically deficient youths.

The Pentagon provided this starting date and listed the training bases for the program.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara envisioned Tuesday as an aid to the services as well as a benefit to American society.

Men ordinarily disqualified for military service will undergo what the Pentagon described as "supplementary or intensified training" to bring them up to minimum standards.

This schooling will take place at regular military training centers around the country.

But exactly which individuals will be affected and what kind and periods of training they will undergo before being accepted or rejected for a full military tour were not fully spelled out by the defense chief.

McNamara offered no clues when he mentioned the program as a military-social mission in a speech to Veterans of Foreign Wars in New York.

He said 40,000 young men would receive the "supplementary" training this fiscal year and 100,000 annually thereafter.

The defense chief said it is hoped up to 85 per cent of the trainees would then be retained for military duty. McNamara said the program would not affect the present draft standards.

Pentagon sources said the trainees would be sworn into the armed services, just as draftees and enlistees are. Those trainees unable to meet the armed services standards after the training period would be given an honorable discharge as unqualified, it was explained.

The sources also said that the new program would have no substantial impact on draft quotas. "This merely will provide us a bit bigger pool of qualified manpower for the military," one spokesman said.

The Pentagon said the program will be conducted at these bases:

Army — Ft. Dix, N.J.; Ft. Jackson, S.C.; Ft. Knox, Ky.; Ft. Gordon, Ga.; Ft. Polk, La.; Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.; Ft. Ord, Calif.; Ft. Benning, Ga.; Ft. Bliss, Tex.; Ft. Lewis, Wash.; Ft. Bragg, N.C.; Ft. Campbell, Ky.; Ft. Sill, Okla.; Ft. Sam Houston, Tex.; Ft. Huachuca, Ariz.

Navy — Recruit training centers at San Diego, Calif., and Great Lakes, Ill.

Marines — Recruit training centers at Parris Island, S.C., and San Diego, Calif.; Camp Lejeune, N.C.; and Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Air Force — Lackland AFB, Tex.

Dry Party Shy Of Signatures

LANSING (AP) — The Prohibition Party selected a six-man slate of candidates Tuesday for Michigan's general election in November, but the names are not likely to appear on the printed ballot.

Party officials said they had obtained only 12,000 of the 19,336 signatures required on petitions to qualify for a place on the ballot. As a result, they conceded, prohibition candidates probably will run as sticker candidates this fall.

Prohibition Party nominees have not appeared on the printed Michigan ballot since 1960.

A spokesman for the party said a suit probably will be filed next week challenging the constitutionality of the statute which requires a political party to submit petitions bearing signatures equal to at least one per cent of the latest vote cast for secretary of state.

On the grounds that such statutes are discriminatory, he said, the case will be fought all the way to the U. S. Supreme Court if necessary.

'Criticize Peace Effort'

Nixon Offers Campaign War-And-Peace Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon is offering Republican Senate and House candidates a war-and-peace program of supporting President Johnson's Viet Nam course but criticizing his peace efforts.

He meets today with House Republicans.

Nixon got what Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, called enthusiastic approval when he plugged at a closed meeting of the Senate Republican Policy Committee Tuesday for a proposed all-Asian peace conference.

Nixon, the 1960 GOP presidential nominee who observes believe might make another try in 1968, spelled out his ideas this way:

He is supporting the prosecution of the Viet Nam conflict to the hilt because he thinks "it is the war to prevent World War III." He said he thinks the Communists would bring on World War III if they are not stopped in Asia.

Nixon said he thinks President Johnson is following a "dead-end street" in offering to base peace negotiations on the Geneva accord and thus involve European nations. Instead, Nixon said, the non-Communist nations of Asia ought to draft proposals for a settlement, even if the Communists ignore them at this point.

There was a great deal more about what he called Johnson's failure to sell the war goals to the country. But Nixon's basic advice to GOP candidates was: Support the flag but offer an alternative to Johnson's thus far unsuccessful efforts to get peace negotiations going.

While Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., balked at interpreting the formula in just this way, he said in an interview that Republicans are not going to contribute to any misunderstanding on the part of Hanoi about the lack of national unity Nixon mentioned.

Nixon was optimistic about the chances of regaining Senate and House seats lost in 1964. He said that Democratic divisions over Viet Nam and party rivalry between Johnson and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., are helping Republican prospects.

Griffin Favors Minimum Wage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., said today he will vote for the minimum wage bill even if his views on some provisions do not prevail.

He said at a news conference he favored making the increase from $1.25 to $1.40 an hour in the minimum wage effective immediately instead of next February as proposed.

He added he does not believe the second step up to $1.60 should go into effect until 1968. The bill calls for the $1.60 minimum to become effective in 1968.

Griffin said he has seen no indication President Johnson is doing anything about the increase in the cost of living.

Asked if he was inviting former Vice President Richard M. Nixon into Michigan to campaign for him, Griffin said Nixon already has spoken for him in Bay City and will be in Grand Rapids Oct. 15. Griffin said he will appear with Nixon at Grand Rapids if he can.

Asked if he would ask Barry Goldwater to speak for him in Michigan, Griffin replied, "No."

Police Probe Threats Against Kelley's Life

DETROIT (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley told a news conference Tuesday that State Police are investigating threats against his life by "underworld forces."

Kelley said he called the conference because of reports that he had visited an alleged Mafia leader in Florida early this year. He confirmed the reports were true.

Kelley charged that persons who he did not identify, are attempting to halt a new grand jury investigation in Wayne County, that "force" in Lansing have put pressure on the Michigan Supreme Court to halt the new grand jury and that his political career has been threatened.

Saying that threats against him have "intensified in the last 48 hours," Kelley added that they came in the form of "conversations, letters and a number of phone calls."

He declined to reveal details on the volume or contents of the threats, except to say they were in the nature of "You're going to be ruined. We're going to get you."

"I can't get into particulars because I want to protect the integrity of the information given to State Police," he said.

Hours earlier, newsmen approached Kelley and told the attorney general it was learned that Kelley had met with reputed Mafia leader Angelo Meli at Meli's Florida apartment.

Kelley confirmed the meeting with Meli.

Meli was identified in 1963 testimony before a U. S. Senate committee as one of five ruling members of the Mafia in Detroit.

$3.4 Billion In Highway Funds Has Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-House conference has reached agreement on a compromise multibillion dollar highway authorization bill for fiscal 1968 and 1969. The measure now goes back to the House and Senate for final action.

The conferees decided Tuesday to provide $3.4 billion in fiscal 1968 for the 41,000-mile interstate expressway system. Fiscal years start on July 1.

The final figures split the difference between the House and Senate versions.

Both versions authorized $1 billion for fiscal 1968 and fiscal 1969 for the primary, secondary and urban road system, sometimes known as A-B-C roads.

A five-year $70 million package was agreed upon for Alaska but the conferees stipulated that the money shall not come from the highway trust fund.

Other two-year authorization in the compromise measure included:

Public lands, $30 million; forest development roads and trails, $340 million; public lands development roads and trails, $8 million; park roads and trails, $55 million; parkways, $26 million; and Indian reservation roads and bridges, $42 million.

Coasters Are Fishing Lure

The bright spot in the fishing picture this week is the appearance of shad-run "coasters" in the Sand River area of Alger County where a few have been taken trolling with spoons along the Lake Superior shoreline.

These fish generally appear in late summer and early fall, run in size and should be worth a try, says Robert Timmer of the Conservation Department. The season, however, terminates with the close of the regular trout season on Sept. 11.

Rainbow continue to be taken from the springlike areas of the Au Train Basin in Alger County and from Johnson Lake near Gwinn. The only reports of stream brook trout success are on the Haymeadow in Delta County and deep holes on the Rock and Au Train rivers and Johnson and Sapsneck creeks, in Alger County.

Fair success is being had for walleye from Little Lake near Gwinn, and Au Train Lake and Au Train River in Alger County.

Au Train Basin is producing some bass and panfish while in Au Train Lake is fair for northern pike and panfish. 16-Mile Lake in Alger County is also producing some northern.

Liberal Arts College:

Education Role Is Defined

The true liberal arts colleges are examining themselves and their role in education, but they are neither dead nor ailing, Dr. John Allen Krout, dean of Heidelberg College, Tiffin, Ohio, told Rotarians Tuesday noon.

Dr. Krout, a friend of Warren Morrison of Escanaba for half a century, addressed a joint meeting of Gladstone and Escanaba Rotary Clubs at the House of Ludington. The meeting was conducted by Isadore Stein, Escanaba Rotary president. The speaker was introduced by John A. Lemmer of the Escanaba Club.

"This is a rather sentimental journey to Escanaba," said Dr. Krout, distinguished educator, author and lecturer. "It was just a half century ago that Warren Morrison and I met for the first time, and although we have seen each other only a few times since, I count him as my steadfast friend — a genial philosopher and devoted friend," said Dr. Krout.

Dr. and Mrs. Krout are guests at the Morrison home in Escanaba this week.

In his career as an educator, Dr. Krout has served a number of universities and colleges, including dean of the faculty of Columbia University when Gen. Eisenhower was its president.

The most important objectives of the true liberal arts colleges were outlined by Dr. Krout under five general headings.

"First, I would acquaint students with this small world in which we live our lives," he said. Doors must be opened in the science areas, to bring appreciation of scientific methods, new discoveries and inventions, "and what they mean to the average man and woman."

Secondly, young people should be educated to become "responsible citizens in the life of their community — the local community," said Dr. Krout. "The greatest neglect of the American people in the government structure lies under our very eyes," not at the state or federal level, Dr. Krout declared. "In most parts of the United States the citizens scandalously neglect their obligations to their city and their township."

Art and Education
Third, said Dr. Krout, the liberal arts college should prepare its graduates to enjoy good music, literature, and art. "There's music in the land — but try listening to it sometime."

Of painting: "Great art is descending into symbols. The archaeologist of the future may well muse, 'I wonder what they thought that was when they put it on canvas.'" Appreciation of fine things should be encouraged in the young.

Fourth, the colleges must seek to do a better job of teaching undergraduates "to write and speak so they can be better understood," Dr. Krout said he is disturbed by the fact that many students are "unable to find words to express themselves."

Fifth, the liberal arts college must stir the imaginations of those who come to us," said the speaker.

"We must arouse rather than deaden the imaginative spirit. We must stir the desire to learn and encourage the precious right to ask questions."

Ideas Vary On U.P. Tour Needs

By JACK ENGLISH

Upper Michigan Tourist Association

Last week we interviewed Will Hardy, news bureau director of the Michigan Highway Department. The implication of his statistics, although encouraging, doesn't answer the old question: How many tourists visited the U. P. and when did they come? How long did they stay? How much money did they spend?

We saw the yet unpublished report of Dr. Clare Gunn of Michigan State University. In 1965, his study showed that 4.7 million tourists visited the U. P. and spent $138 million. Is this a good thing? On the surface, it would seem the per day spending figures fall far short of what Florida does, drawing out of the same market area. Further, it dramatizes the poignant reality that areas such as Colorado, Florida, Arizona, California and the metropolitan centers of New York and Washington, D. C. are fighting over the tourist dollar that we cherish as our own.

To illustrate, Mrs. English and I attended the ski show in New York and stopped in Washington, D. C. during the school spring vacation. A Greyhound bus dispatcher told me that 800 buses of students had already been through the city and about 1,000 were expected before the day was over. How could we divert at least some of these 1,000 buses to the U. P.? How could we draw the families of these sightseers to the U. P. to spend their subsequent vacations?

Bill Carroll told me that a new hotel was just built in Las Vegas at a cost of $25 million. What kind of attractions must we build to make a dent in the market? Figures indicate that an average family spends $29 per day while on vacation. If we could hold them only one more day we would virtually double our business. Projected over a 10 year period, doesn't it seem to follow that spending between $15 and $20 million collectively by business, industry and government to encourage a return of $13 billion would be a good thing?

The question still remains: What kind of tourist attractions would have to be built or developed to increase and maintain the traffic we want?

I called Larry Rubin of the Mackinac Bridge Authority. Larry was enthusiastic about the U. P. and offered a few salient ideas. I asked him what the U. P. needs to get more tourists here. His reply: The

U. P. "doesn't need more attractions but it should develop what it has."

Larry feels that authenticity in the historical approach is of prime importance and cultural development—art, theater, music, etc.—support this one big objective. Further, Larry said, "We have it. We should exploit it. Stop talking about being depressed and poor. People don't buy it. Convince Joe Doakes that the best for his money is here."

The Upper Michigan Tourist Association is ready to help encourage the development of new tourist industries, attractions and events. The sole purpose of UMTA is to assist in promoting the necessary clientele to make such tourist attractions economically feasible and to produce the greatest amount of revenue possible to the U. P. That long range good will from the new tourist attractions is absolutely essential for long range success in this highly competitive business.

Who Can Afford It?

The recent primary election campaign won by former Gov. G. Mennen Williams shows Michigan the dominance of money in politics.

The campaign of Democrats Soapy Williams and Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh for nomination to the U.S. Senate cost almost $700,000.

Elly Peterson, the Republican state chairman, said that she hoped she'd hear no more about the Republicans being the big spenders in politics. She pointed out that Williams won with spending of $278,766 and Cavanagh lost with spending of $420,051 and that this was just the warm-up primary, with the big spending still to come in the Democratic effort to throw Republican Senator Bob Griffin out of office.

"The sums spent by the two Democrats in just the primary," said Elly Peterson "is almost as much as the Republican Party has allotted for every congressional and statewide race for the whole year—including Senator Griffin's campaign."

Secretary of State James M. Hare, a Democrat whose department holds the state's election machinery, said "I couldn't agree with Elly Peterson more than when she advocates holding down campaign expenditures. The trend all over the country has been to spend tremendous sums."

Hare urged that effort be made by members of both political parties in Michigan to impose reasonable limitations on campaign spending, as present laws impose no real legal limitations.

Campaign spending reform has been proposed at the federal level for the past 20 years and Congress had failed to act on any one of 17 different bills on the subject that have been introduced. The implication is clear, suggests Congressman Jim Wright (D-Texas) that "Congress is content with the gaping loopholes which make a mockery of our ancient and inadequate campaign laws and that, in spite of our pious protests, we really do not want reform."

Soapy Williams, the heir to Mennen toiletries millions, spent $116,000 of his own money and reported his bills totaled $278,000. Debts amounted to $86,000. He had as many as 25 persons on his payroll and Cavanagh had about the same number and spent even more than Williams. To suggestions from Williams partisans that Cavanagh got "hate money" from Republicans, the Detroit News explained that the Fords, who aided Cavanagh, had also supported Lyndon Johnson, and that Walker Cislser, who was among Cavanagh financial backers, frequently has helped Democrats.

It is a little heartening to note that, although Cavanagh spent a lot more than Soapy, he didn't get nominated. Soapy was nominated not because he spent a lot of money but because after 6 terms in the governor's office he had a political image that a lot of people—and particularly labor—still liked.

We have here an example of a political problem that fascinates Washington. How, it has been asking, can Hubert Humphrey, with no money, hope to compete with Bobby Kennedy, with all those millions. If Bobby wants to be vice president next time around? Now, the picture has changed. Bobby doesn't want to be. He wants to be Mr. Big. Maybe he'll keep Hubert as the War on Poverty representative in the Administration.

Castro Peddling Art

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The advertisement in a Montreal newspaper read:

"AUCTION SALE"

"A Most Important Consignment of Antiques and Rare and Beautiful Furnishings FROM CUBA by order of whom it may concern.

"To list only a few of the most important lots out of 750, some of which are museum quality and many of which are signed pieces and collectors items:

"Superior French, Turkish, Flemish, Spanish and Italian ornamental furniture and accent pieces.

"A collection of old and intriguing oil paintings and water-colors attributed to famed European artists.

"A very rare Galle vase, signed, on silver mounts... a bowl signed Lalique... beautiful and signed French Art Glass vases..."

"Bergere chairs in floral tapestries... antique Build cabinet, collector's XVIII Century Flemish tallboy chest... pair of Aubusson tapestry covered with Louis fauteuils..."

"A fine Limoges dinner service of 111 pieces... a superb XIX Century Meissen drum clock... Rosenthal and other porcelain... antique French and Italian bronze figure groups..."

"Men who know Cuba's art treasure say that some of the pieces offered are from the Havana Museum, some from the private collections of Cubans whose homes were looted of their treasures by Castro's government."

"The current consignment, being auctioned in several Canadian cities, is valued at upwards of $1 million."

"Two other shipments—one to Switzerland and one to Italy—were valued at $2 million."

"The poor Cuban sugar crop, the fall of the price of sugar on the world markets and the Soviet lock on most Cuban sugar exports have combined to make Fidel Castro desperate for Western currencies—so desperate he's selling treasures."

"With Cuba's foreign exchange dwindling, a number of Western countries which have been supplying Cuba with goods for cash, barter or credit have lost interest in dealing with Havana."

Two Months Of Medicare Show Hospital Crush Is Just An Unfounded Fear

Editors note: Hospitals around Michigan will celebrate Medicare's two-month anniversary Sept. 1 with a big sigh of relief. The expected deluge of elderly patients has not materialized and in most institutions, it's business as usual.

By GENE SCHROEDER

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan hospitals appeared today to have weathered the initial impact of Medicare without too much trouble.

A sampling of hospitals by the Associated Press indicated fears voiced by some administrators when Medicare went into effect seven weeks ago were unfounded.

Some had predicted hospitals, many already operating at nearly 100 per cent capacity, would be swamped by elderly patients seeking admission after the nationwide health insurance program went into effect July 1. Although such dire predictions failed to materialize, officials still say it may take more than a year to determine accurately the demand for various hospital services by Medicare patients.

F. K. Neumann, director of Lansing's Edward W. Sparrow Hospital said the over-65 patient load there remained at about 10 per cent of admissions and 20 per cent of patient days.

Michigan Prepared "It's been business as usual," Neumann commented, "although we still expect some increase."

He explained that Michigan was better prepared than most other states for the onset of Medicare.

"For once, our large industries have been very progressive in providing insurance for the health care of their retirees," Neumann said. "Then, too, Michigan Blue Cross has been aggressive in providing subscriber service for this age group."

"And Michigan has a somewhat smaller body of over-65 people than the nation as a whole — something under nine per cent here."

Little Postponement All this, he pointed out, meant that extensive health care had been available for the elderly for some time before Medicare went into effect.

"Another thing," Neumann added, "is that—despite speculation to the contrary—it's impossible to postpone January's jaundice or February's fracture. There is some discretionary surgery that can be postponed, and I'm sure some was, but not enough to make an impact."

As did many others, Detroit's Henry Ford Hospital made plans when Medicare went into effect to set up as many as four information desks in its lobby to handle the expected flood of inquiries from elderly patients. But only one was needed.

"We've had only a slight increase in the proportion of elderly inpatients since July 1st," said Robert Burwell, assistant director. "About 25 per cent of our inpatients are over 65 now. Before Medicare, the figure was 22 per cent."

Burwell said the new insurance program has created a deluge of paper work, however, and clerical workers will be added to the staff.

More Paper Work A similar situation was reported in Grand Rapids, William Downer, associate director of Blodgett Memorial Hospital, said.

"We have encountered no surprise since the advent of Medicare, but it takes about 5½ more people in the business office to handle the paper work."

"We have found that about one in every six patients is covered under Medicare — almost exactly what we anticipated."

In Ann Arbor, the University of Michigan Hospital has scaled down the number of outpatient reservations held for Medicare patients.

Eleven per cent of outpatient clinic time was held for patients over 65 during July, but a spokesman said the demand proved to be well below that figure.

losing consciousness even temporarily.

Before you resort to sleeping pills or alcohol to help you sleep you should consider the fact that, although these drugs can put you into a deep sleep, they are likely to prevent the dreaming we now know accompanies all normal sleep even though in the morning you may have no recollection of having dreamt. Scientists have found that dreaming is the restorative that allows you to wake up refreshed instead of feeling drugged in the morning.

There is an electric sleep inducer that stimulates the pattering of rain on the roof. This works well for some people but not for others. Another device applies electrodes near the eyes and behind the ears. A low-voltage current then relaxes your muscles and thereby helps you to sleep. Although few persons realize it, you can train yourself to relax your muscles completely and voluntarily and thereby insure prompt sleep without any outside assistance. In the long run this method is best.

If you want to avoid insomnia it is a great help to insist on regular hours for retiring and arising. This is more important than the number of hours of sleep you think you need.

The evening of August 17 I had the pleasure of attending the U. P. State Fair. It was a great experience, for all my life I have heard of the Fair, stemming from my summer vacations on the farms of my grandparents at Stephenson.

It was not the cattle barns, the carnival side shows or the achievement exhibits that left a lasting impression on me, although they were all very good; it was a few words by a 16-year-old exhibitor from Carney. They were, "Thank you for coming to the Fair."

What a tribute to his parents and to himself for expressing such appreciation! I am sure there is success in his future.

People, Events Of Yesteryears

From the files of the Escanaba Daily Press

10 YEARS AGO

Despite all winds that blew cold showers across Northern Michigan and dampened the U. P. State Fair opening, Gov. G. Mennen Williams arrived on schedule to make his appearance at the Fair and address the grandstand show.

John Gustafson, Escanaba, won the blue ribbon in the senior oil painting class of the art show for this year's U. P. State Fair with "Fish Shanties." He also placed fourth with "Birds," "Wild Grass" by John Schwalbach, Escanaba, was second.

25 YEARS AGO

A crowd of over 5,000 people representing Townsend clubs in all sections of the Upper Peninsula were expected to gather at Pioneer Trail Park for a Townsend rally and picnic.

A parade consisting of floats entered by Escanaba business firms and unions, decorated bicycles and bands, would be one of the principal features of the Labor Day celebration that was being sponsored by the Escanaba Trades and Labor Council.

Fishing Ground

Dogger Bank is an isolated shoal in the North Sea off the coast of England. It is 160 miles long, 60 miles wide and 50 feet below the surface of the sea at its highest point. A well-known fishing ground, it gets its name from the Dutch "dogger," meaning a trawler, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Dear Ann Landers: A man sold my husband two cemetery plots complete with a marker for our names. The salesman told my husband he could get a special price on some fancy stone cut work if my husband wanted our names put on now. Over my objections my husband told the man to go ahead.

We now own two cemetery lots and a double headstone with our names on it. I hate the idea that our graves are waiting for us. Instead of the "peace of mind" which the salesman promised, it is making me sick. What do you suggest?—NOT READY YET

Dear Not Ready: I checked around, hoping I could tell you it is illegal to engrave names of living people on headstones. Sorry but it's not against the law.

It is creepy, however, and I do hope your husband will agree to remove the headstone and keep it in somebody's garage or tool shed.

Dear Ann Landers: We are seven teen-age girls who did a real dump thing and now we need some advice—and fast.

Last night we were discussing sex and decided to make it a frank "tell-all" session. Well, all of us talked freely. I'm sure some of the girls told more than actually happened because they didn't want to look like goody-goodies. I am one who made up some things. I'm considered sophisticated and I didn't want to let them down.

After about an hour of "true" confessions my brother walked in with his tape recorder. He wants $25 within three weeks from each one of us or he plays the tapes for his friends and various parents.

It would be worth $25 to me to be free of the worry. I would die if my stories got out. The other girls feel as I do. Rush your advice, please.—TALKED TOO MUCH

Dear Talked: People who stand still for blackmail are never free. If your brother would pull such a stunt, he could also make reproductions of the tape, take the money and blackmail you again with the reproductions in three months.

Tell him "no sale" and to go ahead and play the tapes on the Voice of America if he can swing it.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband has had some severe emotional problems for a long time. Recently his physician suggested psychiatric help. I am happy to say that he took the advice and is now in therapy.

My husband is self-conscious about seeing a psychiatrist and has not told anyone. I have kept his secret also — until a couple of weeks ago. His mother came to visit us and I mentioned it to her, in the strictest of confidence. She promised not to let on that she knew.

This morning we received a letter from her, our first since she returned home. The first part of the letter was very pleasant. Then she wrote: "Are you still going to a psychiatrist, son? I don't think you need one. Why don't you just snap out of it?"

My husband is furious with me. It appears that my mother-in-law is (a) not on my side and (b) is looking to make trouble. Comment please — A. A. W.

Dear A. A. W.: You may be right about (a) and (b) and now may I add (c)? That loose lip of yours is what started all the trouble. I hope you've now learned your lesson.

When necking becomes petting, watch out! To learn how the smart girl keeps both her dignity and her boy friend, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Necking and Petting — How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 25c in coin and a long, self-addressed and stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Nation's Food Surpluses Gone

U.S. Depends On '66 Crops

By DON OAKLEY

Undoubtedly the "sleeper" story of the year—and maybe the century—is the sudden shrinking of America's once seemingly inexhaustible stocks of food.

For the first time in more than a decade, reports the New York Times, the nation is depending almost entirely on current production of farm products to meet its domestic and foreign requirements. This is especially so of grains. The only exception to the picture is cotton.

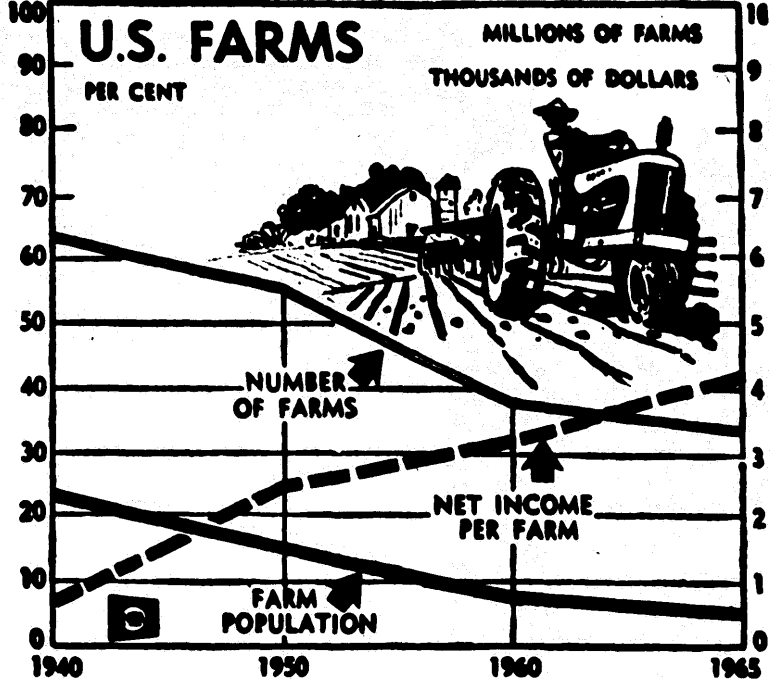

A number of factors are responsible, chief among them the world population explosion. But an increasing consumption of meat, both here and in the more affluent countries abroad, has also led to an increasing demand for grain for animal feed.

With other commodities, such as soybeans, crops have either not come up to expectations or demand has been greater than planned for.

Another factor is bureaucratic meddling in the form of what NEA correspondent Ray Crowley describes as an antiquated system of controls designed for an era of overabundance.

Farmers are told how much they can plant and are penalized by a reduction in government subsidy payments if they exceed this limit. Not only has this system discouraged wheat farmers from increasing production but it has encouraged others, such as small, marginal growers, to continue planting this crop in order to qualify for the sure profit of subsidies rather than shifting to other crops where there is a booming market demand.

In terms of wheat, the arithmetic is simple: This year's crop is forecast at about 1.2 billion bushels.

WITH BOTH domestic and foreign grain demands rising, the nation for the first time in many years finds its surplus stocks virtually exhausted. Fewer American farmers than in former years must now meet the greater demand from current production. From population (scale at left) dropped from 23.2 per cent of total U. S. population in 1940 to 6.4 per cent in 1965. Number of farms (scale at right) dropped from more than six million to less than 3.5 million, although average farm size increased. The farmer's net income (scale at right) rose, however, from less than $1,000 in 1940 to more than $4,000 in 1965.

Domestic needs and export shipments are estimated at 1.5 billion bushels. Consequently, as much as 300 million bushels may have to come out of reserves which, as of June 30, were down to 536 million bushels, the lowest in 13 years.

To the starving part of the world, if this trend were permitted to continue, it could mean disaster. For the American housewife, it could mean an even higher price tag on a loaf of bread.

Corn stocks held by the government are at 100 million bushels, down from 450 million last year, and the government has stopped selling corn for export entirely.

All of this did not come about unnoticed and overnight, of course. The government started worrying about the wheat situation last spring and permitted farmers a 15 per cent increase in sowings for the 1967 crop. Just recently, another 15 per cent increase was granted. Together, the increases will add 16.6 million acres to the

Medical Service Cost Rise Brings Johnson Concern

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson, expressing concern at the sharp rise in the cost of medical service, today directed Secretary of Welfare John W. Gardner to look into the situation.

Gardner reported this to newsmen after a conference with the President.

Gardner said the cost of medical service — hospitals and doctor bills — and insurance has risen 3.4 per cent in the last six months, or at an annual rate of 6.4 per cent.

Gardner said he will conduct the study in cooperation with the Labor Department, the Council of Economic Advisers, and other government agencies.

Asked whether he felt there were abuses involved, Gardner replied, "I am not saying there are abuses." But he added, "We want to take a very hard and very quick look at it. We will move rapidly."

Asked what course were available to the government in the event abuses were found, Gardner said the first problem is to see what the situation is.

House Passes 4 Year Term

LANSING (AP)—The House of Representatives Tuesday passed a proposal to lengthen its members' terms from two to four years.

The proposal, however, will have to pass the House again, pass an uncommitted Senate and pass on the Nov. 8 general election ballot.

It was approved 75-24, over a cry of "fraud." Just two months after the lawmakers voted a legislative pay raise of $2,500. The four-year-term resolution calls for a constitutional amendment—meaning it needs a two-thirds vote in both houses (74 in the House and 25 in the Senate).

Another constitutional amendment proposal did not fare as well. A Democratic-backed attempt to strike the 1963 State Constitution's prohibition against a graduated state income tax was raised and failed to gain the needed margin in a 69-33 party-line vote.

If passed by the Senate, the term proposal, calling for four-year terms for House members and township officers starting Jan. 1, 1967, would go on the Nov. 8 ballot for voter approval. Rep. Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, minority leader, served notice, however, that he would move Wednesday to reconsider the vote by which the resolution passed.

The Senate would not be affected by the resolution. It starts its first four-year term next Jan. 1.

Congress Speeds Bill To Provide Mortgage Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate House conferees agreed Tuesday on a compromise bill to pump an additional $4.76 billion of government mortgage purchase funds into the sagging home-building industry.

In coming to a quick agreement on the legislation at their first meeting, the conferees wrote in the highest possible figure by accepting all the devices carried in both the House and Senate versions.

Sponsors said the compromise measure probably will be called up Wednesday in the Senate and could be signed into law by the end of this week.

The new funds would be channeled through the Federal National Mortgage Association. They would apply to FHA-insured and VA-guaranteed mortgages.

The same set of conferees also agreed on a second measure — a mass transit subsidy bill authorizing an additional $300 million to carry on this program in fiscal 1968 and 1969.

This followed the Senate version. The House had voted only for $150 million in 1968.

Bear Hunting Licenses Ready

Licenses to hunt bear during the special 18-day season in the Upper Peninsula are now available at all Conservation Dept. offices and field stations. Robert Timmer, district law supervisor, Escanaba, announced today.

Price for resident licenses is $5. Non-resident fee is $25.

Bear season runs from Sept. 1 through Sept. 15 in all Upper Peninsula counties except Keweenaw, Timmer said. The shooting hours are from 6 a. m. to 7 p. m. (EST).

Timmer said bear may be taken with either gun or bow and arrow under a bear hunting license. He said licenses are not sold through the regular license dealers and anyone in rural areas without immediate access to a district office or field station should contact their local conservation officer.

Dogs are permitted to hunt bear, he said.

Mackinac Harbor $562,000 Project Gets U. S. Funds

WASHINGTON Funds have been approved for preconstruction work on the Mackinac Island Harbor project, according to Senator Philip A. Hart and Congressman Raymond F. Cleveland.

Plans call for construction of a 500-foot extension at the outer end of the existing east breakwater.

Estimated cost of the improvement is $562,000, with $332,000 being provided out of federal funds and $230,000 contributed by local interests.

New Contract Is Approved

BARK RIVER — The Bark River-Harris Board of Education and school district teachers have reached agreement on a master contract for the 1966-67 school year.

In a joint statement released today by the Board and the Bark River-Harris Education Association, the groups said settlement was reached in an all-day negotiation session Monday presided over by Carl York, Rapid River, of the State Labor Mediation Board.

The groups had joined in an appeal for state assistance after seven months of negotiations deadlocked last week.

The contract provides for improved sick leave benefits to teachers, duty-free lunch periods and a salary schedule starting at $5,200 with steps to $7,696 for bachelor's degree teachers and $3,500 to $8,140 for teacher's holding master's degrees.

Supt. Richard Hendra said the completed contract assures that Bark River-Harris schools will open as scheduled Monday, Aug. 29. Teachers will report at 8:30 a. m. with students from grades 1-12 reporting at 1 p. m. Buses will operate between 11 a. m. and 1 p. m. Hendra said kindergarten students will not begin classes until Tuesday, Aug. 30.

Five More Days Hunting

45-Day Duck Hunt Is Set

Michigan duck hunters will have five more days of action and liberalized bag limits on several species, including mallards, while goose shooters will find their regulations essentially the same as a year ago under 1966 waterfowl rules established by the U. S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.

The Commission set this fall's 45-day duck season for Oct. 10-Nov. 23, within the framework of federal hunting options released by the U. S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.

Last year's bag limits of four ducks per day and eight in possession will be repeated during the longer 1966 season.

In other action the Commission again approved an Oct. 1-Nov. 30 goose season for the Upper and Northern Lower Peninsulas. For the southern third of the state, goose shooting will open Oct. 10, concurrently with the duck season, and close Nov. 30.

Patterned after last year's bag limits, goose hunters will be able to take five birds per day. Their possession limit is also five. Canada geese may account for two of the five birds, same as in 1965.

With a few exceptions the state's waterfowl shooting hours will again be from sunrise to sunset. No waterfowl hunting will be permitted before 10 a. m. in the Upper and Northern Lower Peninsulas on the Oct. 1 goose opener or in any region of the state on the Oct. 10 start of the duck season.

On Oct. 20, the small game opener in southern Michigan, the starting time will also be 10 a. m. throughout the Lower Peninsula.

Although the duck season's basic bag limits will remain unchanged, special restrictions have been lifted on pintails, and mallard quotas have been relaxed from one per day and two in possession to two and four.

Within the regular limits of four and eight, hunters may have two canvasbacks and two wood ducks in the bag and four of both species in possession. This is a liberal change from last year when the possession limit was two canvasbacks and two wood ducks.

Following last year's format, American, red-breasted, and hooded mergansers will make up a special bag quota over and above the basic duck limits. Hunters will be able to take five of these birds per day and have 10 in possession. However, they are again restricted to one hooded merganser in the bag and two in possession under these limits.

In another sportsmen's appeal, a bonus bag of two birds per day and four in possession, singly or combined, will be offered on scaup and ringneck ducks in several areas of Michigan.

The additional birds may be taken from Oct. 20 through Nov. 23 in Little Bay de Noc north of a line from the mouth of the Ford River to Peninsula Point, and in Big Bay de Noc north of a line from Peninsula Point to Point DeTour.

Bag limits remain the same as last year on coots, rails, gallinules and jacksnipe which will be legal targets during the Oct. 10-Nov. 23 duck season.

Daily and possession limits for these birds are as follows: Coots, 10 and 30; rails and gallinules, 15 and 30; jacksnipe, 8 and 16.

BIDS WANTED

The Board of Education of the Escanaba Area Public Schools will receive sealed bids on or before 4:00 p. m. Tuesday, September 6, 1966 for supplying, installing and testing necessary fittings, valves, regulators and other appurtenances in converting 2 oil burners at the high school for natural gas, burners not required. Specifications may be obtained from the Business Office, 1219 No. 19th St., Escanaba. The Board of Education reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive any or all irregularities deemed in the best interest of the School District.

LBJ's Coattail Shorter: Ruppe

HOUGHTON—Phillip E. Ruppe, the Republican nominee for Congress in Michigan's 11th District, told a press luncheon at the Douglass House here Monday: "The campaign in the 11th District holds promise of ranking high among the campaigns throughout the nation as a real test of our free election system at work."

"It becomes clearer each day in my travels throughout the 11th District's 22 counties that the incumbent congressman cannot, as was the case in the last election, benefit from riding on the coattails of President Johnson," said Ruppe.

"His blind loyalty to the administration's programs over the last two years will prove a definite deterrent to his reelection, as I find the people are ready for a change and the new fresh approach I shall offer to the problems facing Upper Michigan."

"I am finding the Northern Michigan voter, young and old, very much aware that those programs have brought him to the brink of runaway inflation with higher food prices, higher and higher taxes, and an absence of presidential leadership and purpose in the Viet Nam war."

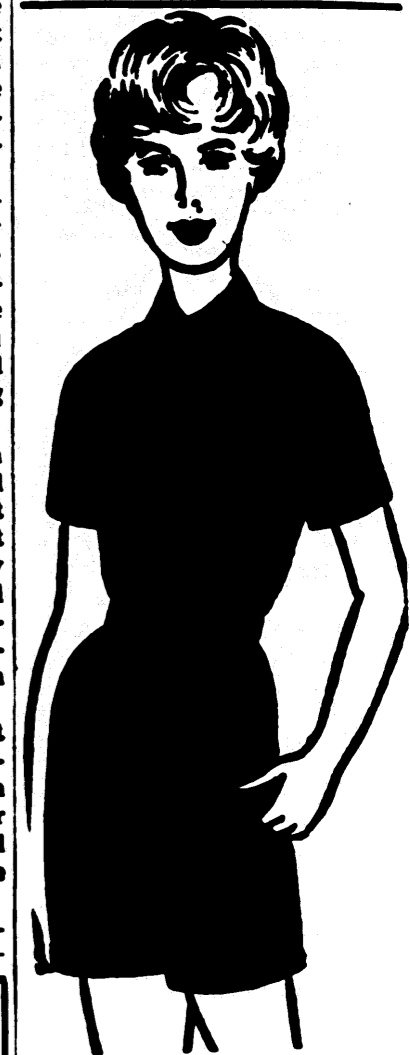

"It is clearly evident that those programs are coming under severe criticisms by even the staunchest Democrats—for example, Robert and Edward Kennedy, brothers of the late President Kennedy."

"Out of their great awareness of LBJ's policies, most Northern Michigan voters do not consider the Republican and Democrat parties as 'two distinct and separate forces.' "Our average voter has never been more receptive to hearing from the individual candidates. This is an ideal climate for a free election system to work for the best interests of the district."

Tight Money Is Big Bear Agent

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — The plunge of the stock market has been called a crisis in investor confidence. The drop of the Dow-Jones Industrial average below the 800 mark could be a psychological setback. That's because stock market watchers —whether shareowners or not—put faith in these neat round numbers.

It does little good to tell the general public that Monday's drop of 12.59 points in the index of 30 leading industrial stocks is not an average drop of $12.59 per share by any means, but less than $1.25. Nor will the public turn to other indexes tailored to come closer to actual dollar values in recording upswings and downturns.

Congress Move To Aid Builder

SAGINAW (AP) — Senate House conferees' approval of a measure providing $4.76 billion in home mortgage funds won praise Tuesday from the head of the nation's largest supplier of housing construction materials.

"This kind of stuff is going to get right into the bloodstream. This is all good," said Daniel Fitzgerald, president of Wickes Corp.
Fitzgerald said a major cause of "the private depression in the residential construction industry" is the inability of savings and loan associations (which finance about 45 per cent of residential mortgages) to attract new deposits.
This, he said, is because the associations have entered longer mortgage commitments than commercial banks (averaging about 14 years, compared with seven for banks), and can't "get their interest rates current."

Fitzgerald said federal money made available to the associations would be especially helpful to the homebuilding industry. "Every time you deposit a dollar in savings and loan," he said, "they lend it back out in mortgages."
Washington economists agree that the interest-rate spiral and a shortage of mortgage money continues to force down estimates of how many new houses will be started this year.

The housing bill may be ready for President Johnson's signature by the end of the week.
Most of the $4.76 billion would be used to buy federally insured mortgages from banks and loan associations, thus giving the lenders fresh money to finance more mortgages.
Fitzgerald said the measure could be "very helpful" and might buoy the industry to near-normal levels during the winter when construction, especially in the North, is slower.

"But these are temporary measures," he said, adding he believed help for savings and loan associations from the Federal Reserve Board might be required "to restore the normal flow of funds into the mortgage market."

Helicopter Help

Mother Earth Picture Taken

HAMPTON, Va. (AP) — At the age of about 4½ billion years, Mother Earth has been the subject of a photograph—but she'll have to wait a while to see if it's a good likeness and even whether the photo was taken.

Officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration commanded Lunar Orbiter to snap the photograph Tuesday as it circled the moon 240,000 miles from earth. The command called for the photo to be stored on tape in the 850-pound spacecraft. It will be transmitted Thursday to the deep space receiving station at Goldstone, Calif.

The officials hope the photo will provide information on the earth's terminator — the line dividing the shadowed and sunlit portions of the planet.

They believe it will show a gradual shading from light to dark, rather than a well defined line as is evident on the moon, because of the diffusion of sunlight by the earth's atmosphere.

There is some question, however, whether Lunar Orbiter's camera actually snapped the picture. Space agency officials re-emphasized Tuesday night that the orbiting photographic laboratory, a success in other respects, has taken poor photographs with its high-resolution lens.

While photographs taken with a lens that shows greater areas — with less detail — have been clear, the closeups taken by the high-resolution lens have been blurred. They have failed to show the surface details necessary to select landing sites on the moon for American astronauts, the NASA officials said.

The trouble in essence has been that the film was moving when the shutter was opening and closing.

Lunar Orbiter's mission, however, is continuing on schedule and today, on its 21st orbit, it was to snap photographs of another possible landing site for the Apollo 16 astronauts. It is in an orbit that brings it as close as 33 miles from the lunar surface and as far as 1,153 miles.

Motorist Aid Phones To Be Added On I-94

LANSING (AP) — Motorist aid telephones will be installed along I-94 between Battle Creek and Jackson as part of a federal research project.

The State Highway Commission said that it will take bids on the project in November.

The phones will be installed every three-quarters of a mile to 1¼ miles along the 30-mile stretch of freeway.

The Bureau of Public Roads is paying for 90 per cent of the $275,000 installation. The state is paying the rest.

Telephones cannot be used for routine personal calls, however. When a motorist picks up the receiver, he will be automatically connected to the nearest State Police headquarters.

Phones will be paired on each side of the freeway so that users will not have to cross traffic.

An American Is A Man Of Belief

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — The average American is, above all else, a man of belief. Right or wrong, he will often cling loyally to a belief despite any or all evidence to the contrary.
When the mass of people decide a thing is so, all the scientists and educators in the world can't change their minds. In the last analysis, people believe what they want to, because in some mysterious way it makes them more comfortable.

And who is to say they are unwise? Myth often serves mankind as well as fact. Superstition has its uses as well as truth. For example, it isn't really unlucky to walk under a ladder — but it may show poor judgment to do so.

Here are a few popular American beliefs, widely held by many, that nothing seems able to put down:
That it was Mark Twain who said, "Everybody talks about the weather, but nobody does anything about it." This was written by Twain's friend, Charles Dudley Warner, but 95 per cent of the public doesn't remember him, so Mark gets the credit.

That a large head is a sign of intelligence. About the biggest head ever recorded belonged to an idiot.

That an honest man always looks you squarely in the eye. Most veteran cops will tell you that it is the bold and unrepentant criminal who is more likely to do this.
That eating fish will make you more brainy. If this is so, why didn't an Eskimo beat Einstein to the theory of relativity?
That eating oysters makes men more virile. Can't be true, because middle-aged men would have made the oyster extinct long ago.

That a diamond is the hardest substance on earth. It's not as hard as the heart of a wife who makes her husband work himself to death so she can have diamonds.

That too much money is inevitably a curse. The trouble with this theory is that nobody ever gets too much money.
That charity begins at home. It should, but too often that's where it never shows itself.
That men are afraid of brainy women. Actually, most men are more afraid of a dumb woman, because she can get them in worse trouble.
That any ambitious American boy can grow up to be a U.S. president. Ask Norman Thomas, Jim Farley or Tom Dewey.

Romney Cites NMU Gain

The tendency to move authority away from the state level to the federal level in education was deplored in an address at Marquette Monday by Gov. George Romney.

The Governor spoke at the "School for Executives" on the Northern Michigan University campus.

Departing from his prepared remarks, the Governor drew applause for his comments on the state-federal relationship in education.

"I believe we have not yet recognized the extent to which we're moving in the wrong direction in handling public problems," he said. "In the private economic structure, the institutions that have excelled are those that have found a way to organize their vast structures so that people close to the problems have the authority to act. In the public sector, we have moved in exactly the opposite direction." Romney said an effort has been made to avoid this in Michigan. "If we're going to deal with these (education) problems adequately and effectively, we're going to have to reverse this process of moving authority up the line."

Two Trends

Romney said he detected two definite trends in the changing role of the state in higher education: (1) that colleges and universities are accepting a stronger role for the state, including the fact that big decisions about expansions and new programs can no longer be made unilaterally and (2) a sharp upswing in public confidence in higher education and support of it.

"These two related trends," he said, "have been associated with years of record progress in higher education. Operating funds have been increased by about 90 per cent over a four-year period. We are currently rolling along with a $350 million capital construction program. State support per community college student is up 50 per cent and matching funds for construction have increased from $1.3 million to $8 million. In short, we are expanding our commitment to higher education at an unprecedented rate, and the public is solidly behind us.

Northern Lauded

"Our experience in Michigan indicates clearly that a new and stronger role for state government should not be feared or obstructed by leaders of colleges and universities. On the contrary, the new style of higher education politics heralds a new climate of public interest education."

Romney lauded NMU's role in Michigan's higher education scene. He called it "an excellent model of activist and progressive higher education—serving with distinction both in this immediate area and the state as a whole."

"Last year," Romney added, "Northern attracted about 1,000 students from the Detroit metropolitan area—that's almost a fifth of its Michigan student enrollment. Although it is primarily oriented to the educational needs of the Upper Peninsula, it is also one of the important forces which binds our two peninsulas together. Northern's student enrollment increase rate during my administration has run about 47 per cent ahead of the state system as a whole and its appropriation increase has run about 100 per cent ahead."

He said she and another girl "behaved bitterly and fanatically in court" during the trial.

The sect leaders set up an illegal Sunday School "in which illiterate and fanatical teachers taught 'God's word' to children 8 to 11 years old, and persistently and systematically accused them to a religious outlook," the Gazette said.

The May 2 baptism came on a Monday immediately after May Day which happened to fall on a Sunday this year. The indictment charged the sect with holding meetings that conflicted with official Soviet holidays—all of which come on Sundays except for May Day, and the Nov. 7 anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

Influencing Young

The Baptist sect was accused of influencing young minds through books that contained "nonsensical notions on reality," a disbelief in everything noble and good—they convince believers that there is no happiness on earth and never can be."

One defendant was described as engineer P. D. Belenky who gave Baptist lectures while on business trips. Three others were listed as Zhovniuk, Bolgovya and Yersov. Two were unidentified.

The paper did not say whether there was any connection between this Baptist sect and another one at Mtsensk, near Orel, denounced last May 22.

Largest Sect

The Rev. Alexander Karev, general secretary of the Baptist Union in the Soviet Union, said the one based in Mtsensk was small and fanatical and regular Baptists disapproved of it.

The Russian, with more than 500,000 members, is the second largest Baptist community in the world after the United States.

Many Baptists at the American Embassy have attended services at the Moscow Baptist church and sung in the choir.

No Changes In State Canvass

LANSING (AP)—The losers remained losers and the close races remained close today after the Board of State Canvassers wrote most of the Aug. 2 primary election races into official history.

None of the close races were reversed from the unofficial results tabulated election night and the next morning.

One would-be candidate withdrew his protest of the certification of his 23-vote loss and planned instead to demand a recount.

Louis Drolet of Niles lost by a vote of 2,268-2,245 to De Forrest Strang of Sturgis. They were running for the Republican nomination for the seat vacated by the retirement of Floyd Wagner, R-Cassopolis.

In the Upper Peninsula, Rep. James Constantini, D-Iron Mountain, trailed Iron Mountain Mayor Jack Gingrass by 25 votes. The vote in the Democratic primary was 3,634 to 3,609.

House Majority Whip William Thorne, D-Deerborn Heights, trailed Dearborn city official Alex Pilch 2,531-2,499.

And Rep. Homer Arnett, R-Kalamazoo, continued to trail Dr. William Weber, a co of Kalamazoo, by 91 votes—2,497-2,406.

Fuel Line Shift Tragedy Cause?

MARINETTE — Coroner Richard Matty said Tuesday that an attempt to change fuel lines from an empty tank to a full one may have caused the tragic loss of five lives in a boating accident on Green Bay Saturday.

Three men are still missing from a 17-foot outboard runabout which was found swamped about the mouth of the Peshigo River Monday. Bodies of two teenage girls who were members of the boating party were found Monday.

Matty speculated that the boat could have tipped over as someone stood up to transfer fuel lines to the 75-horsepower outboard engine, throwing all five occupants into the water. One of two fuel tanks was full, while the tank to which fuel hoses were connected was empty, Matty said.

The partially submerged boat was found with motor and fuel tanks still aboard.

Men Still Missing
Still missing and sought in a Coast Guard and Sheriff's Dept. search today are Walter Laundree, 40, Marinette, owner of the boat; Robert Wendt, 19, and William Marves, 21, both of Milwaukee.

Sheriff's deputies presumed they drowned in the accident. Bodies of Germaine Peterson, 16, Marinette, Laundree's step daughter, and Gloria Kelley, 19, Menominee, were found Monday afternoon.

Coroner Matty called off plans for an autopsy because, he said, nothing medically can be gained.

"Death could have come by exposure and shock or drowning. It is likely, however, that death occurred by drowning," Matty said he was placing time of death at about 5 p. m. Saturday, about the time a squall struck Green Bay in the area the boating party had headed.

Wearing Lifejackets
Miss Kelly was wearing an adult life jacket and the jacket was properly secured and tied when her body was recovered. Matty said the jacket was not waterlogged and was effective. The coroner said that Miss Peterson had a child's lifejacket on and that the straps did not separate from the jacket. He said the jacket was hanging by her side, but it was probably effective for some time.

Experienced boaters speculated that the Laundree party never approached Chambers Island, but probably swamped in high seas around Green Island because of the location of the boat and the girls' bodies when they were found.

Green Island is about six miles off the Marinette-Menominee shoreline.

Committee OKs Bill To Penalize Anti-War Acts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Committee on Un-American Activities gave unanimous approval today to administration-opposed legislation to slap stiff criminal penalties on the activities of some anti-Viet Nam war groups.

In less than an hour, the full committee ratified the amended bill approved Tuesday by the subcommittee which conducted four tumultuous days of investigation into the groups which contend that the United States is guilty of aggression in Viet Nam.

Chairman Edwin E. Walsh, D-La., said the bill will be brought promptly before the House.

Overwhelming House passage of the controversial bill is expected, but it may face death in the Senate where the Democratic and Republican leadership are less than enthusiastic about it.

Embs Appointed City Controller

Escanaba City Manager George Harvey today announced the appointment of Milton J. Embs of 507 S. 8th St., to the position of city controller effective Sept. 1.

The appointment fills a vacancy caused by the resignation of Frank Bourke, who accepted employment in Escanaba with the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.

Embs has served the City of Escanaba as administrative assistant since January, 1960.

His duties as an administrative aide to the city manager includes personnel matters, and assistance to the Civil Service Commission and the Planning Commission.

Born in Escanaba on May 8, 1911, Embs graduated from Escanaba High School in 1929, and was employed in the cashier's office of the I. Stephenson Co. before becoming office manager for the Shepek Dimention and Lumber Co. at Wells in 1943. He left the latter firm in 1960 to accept the city position.

Mrs. Embs is the former Doris Olson of Escanaba. They have three children, Richard Embs, employed in food science research at Michigan State University, East Lansing; Milton D. Embs, with a CPA firm in Benton Harbor; and Jacqueline, at home, who will enter Michigan State University as a freshman this fall.

The city manager said the appointment to fill the position of administrative assistant will be made soon.

MEA Issues Sanctions On Farwell School

EAST LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Education Association has issued sanctions against the Farwell School District.

The district, seven miles west of Clare, has violated the teacher tenure law and the public employee relations act, said E. Dale Kennedy, executive secretary of the association.

The district had warned that any teacher who did not return his signed contract by July 11 would be fired, he said. It announced earlier this month that it was filling all positions for which contracts had not been signed.

Sanctions are intended to warn teachers looking for work to avoid a school district.

Environment Is New Concern Of All Americans

HOUGHTON—"The United States has arrived at a new technical crossroad, and the time has come for us to give technology a fresh direction," Dr. Walter R. Hibbard, Jr., director of the U. S. Bureau of Mines, told 103 Michigan Tech graduating seniors today.

"If we must disturb more of our land to obtain essential raw materials," Dr. Hibbard said, "we now know that we must restore it afterwards. We know also that we can no longer afford to compromise the quality of our air and water resources as part of the price to be paid for industrial greatness and economic affluence."

"The necessity for maintaining an environment of the highest possible quality," he said, "has brought us to today's new crossroad—the one which you young men and women are presently confronting."

"The U. S., he said, "now desperately needs those who are builders—those who can create new and better institutions to replace outmoded ones, and give us methods and means needed to continue the growth of a strong and durable society—a society that will be responsive to the needs of the people."

The City Council has tentatively scheduled a special meeting Sept. 13 to discuss sewer, water and street needs in the community.

Officers Picked By Republicans

The Schoolcraft Republican convention has elected Charles H. Varnum permanent chairman and Dr. R. E. Hawn, vice chairman. Maxine Heath has been appointed secretary.

Delegates elected for the state convention in Cobo Hall, Detroit, Aug. 26-27 are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Varnum and Dr. James H. Fyvie. Varnum is chairman of the delegation.

Alternates are LeRoy Belcik, A. J. Cayia Jr., William Guinan, Maxine Heath, David Kelly, Richard Ketchik, John P. Miller, John Moffat, Pearl Smith, Duane Waters, Margaret Waters and Mavis Wood.

A motion was made that delegates follow direction of resolutions adopted in the convention, be instructed on those not resolved in convention, and follow unit rule.

John P. Miller has been appointed parliamentary and Richard Ketchik, sergeant-at-arms. The convention adopted resolutions supporting W. G. Milliken for the lieutenant governor nomination, endorsed candidates of state and national legislative candidates, pledged full support and resources for control of crime, supported efforts for greater traffic safety, and asked the state Republican convention to endorse legislation for reduction and eventual elimination of Mackinac Bridge tolls.

old Carlson said he "forgot—I had a lapse and when you're on midnights that's easy to do" in explaining his absence at a meeting Aug. 18 at which his absence and that of Councilman Merwin White were criticized.

Councilman Leo DeMars disagreed with Carlson's explanation, citing that the minutes showed he was absent at the Monday meeting also at which plans for the special meeting were made. Carlson said he had obligations to his employer and family. DeMars noted in reply that a check of the minutes would show Carlson had been absent more than all of us put together.

Mayor Thor Reque said the manager had some responsibility in not sending notices. Carlson, who said schedules of work are posted Thursday nights at his place of employment, suggested that the mayor call or have the city clerk call to remind councilman of meetings.

Merwin White asked when the meeting could be arranged and made suggestions on dates.

The low bids of Curran Chevrolet to provide a police station wagon for $2,515.48 and a carry-all vehicle for ambulance purposes at $2,281.50 were accepted.

Chatham's Cliff Johnson turned in another ironman mound performance in the Upper Peninsula Class C softball tournament at Iron Mountain last weekend. His V&B Bar team was blanked by Remillard's, 2-0, in a second round game but that didn't stop the veteran chucker from firing four victories to gain the finals against the Escanaba Teamsters. He beat Stevenson Chevs of Hancock, 13-2; Tripoli's of Iron River, 4-1; Jacobs Motors of Iron Mountain, 5-3, and then handed the Teamsters their first setback, 18-3, in the first game of the finals. The teams will clash again for the U. P. title, which Chatham won last year, Saturday night at 8.

Clayton Lindquist of Milwaukee, former Escanaban, finished in a tie for 11th place in the Wisconsin State Open tournament at Madison last week. Lindquist shot a 304 on rounds of 76-74-75-79. ## Podres Pitches Fine Game But Fails To Get Victory

DETROIT (AP)—Johnny Podres must be wondering if he's ever going to win another game.

The tricky Tiger lefthander held Chicago to one unearned run through eight innings Tuesday night but — for the fifth time in his six starts — was not the pitcher of record as the White Sox went on to win, 2-1, in 12 innings.

"It was one of those games that both pitchers deserved to win," Manager Frank Skaff said philosophically. "Johnny was great again but we just can't seem to get him any runs."

The loss hurt a little more because the Tigers knew that they had a chance to gain another game on the front-running Baltimore Orioles, 2-1 losers to Cleveland.

Both of the Chicago runs were aided by wild pitches.

The White Sox broke a scoreless deadlock in the fifth with benefit of a hit. Bill Skowron walked, went to second when Norm Cash bobbled Pete Ward's grounder, moved to third on a sacrifice and scored on the wild pitch by Podres.

Cash tied the score with a two-out homer in the ninth but the White Sox took advantage of a couple of scratch hits and a wild pitch in the 12th for their winning run.

Jerry Adair's inning-opening grounder snaked its way through the middle for a single. A wild pitch by loser Larry Sherry put Adair on second and he went to third when Tom McCraw beat out a slow roller to second.

Sherry made a good play to throw out McCraw at second on a bouncer by Floyd Robinson but Wayne Causey came through with a sacrifice fly, scoring Adair.

Gary Peters, who holds a 10-2 career record over the Tigers, held them without a hit until the fifth inning and got out of jams in both the fourth and fifth with the help of double plays.

He walked Don Wertz and Jerry Lumpe to open the fourth but struck out Cash and got Al Kaline to bounce into the double play.

Willie Horton bunted a single for the first Detroit hit in the fifth and moved to second on Bill Freeman's fly to deep center. Mickey Stanley then singled to left but Skaff elected to hold Horton at third rather than wave him in. Dick McAuliffe then hit into the inning-ending double play.

"That ball that Stanley hit was right at (Ken) Berry," said Skaff. "If he had to go to his right or left I probably would have let Willie go. But Berry had the ball in his glove and Horton had not reached third."

Sherry singled leading off the Detroit 11th but was later forced at second after Wertz tried to cross up the White Sox by swinging away in a bunt situation.

"Wertz's really mad at himself for popping up on that one," Skaff said. "He told me he got his pitch—right over the middle—but I guess it just wasn't our day."

The last time Podres pitched against the White Sox he left in the seventh inning because of a sore elbow. The Tigers blew a 3-1 lead and lost that one, 6-3.

Giants Win On Surprise Homer By Ollie Brown

By The Associated Press

Ollie Brown is still 531 home runs behind Willie Mays. It just doesn't seem that much to Juan Marichal today.

Brown San Francisco's center fielder Tuesday night, wall-popped a three-run homer, propelling starter Marichal to his 18th victory as the Giants whipped Cincinnati 7-3 and regained the National League lead.

Their fourth straight victory, coupled with Pittsburgh's 5-4 loss to Philadelphia, lifted the Giants one game ahead of the Pirates in the tight race.

Brown, a light-hitting rookie with five major league homers to his credit, was shifted to center field when Manager Herman Franks decided to rest Mays, who had smushed his 537th career homer three days ago.

Marichal picked Mays' night off for his own return to action. The Dominican right-hander, troubled recently by a sprained ankle, had not been expected to be ready until Friday. He hurt his left ankle three weeks ago in Chicago and aggravated the injury last Wednesday against St. Louis.

But he told Franks before Tuesday night's game that he was fit and the manager made the switch from his listed starter, Ray Sadecki.

For 3½ innings, the change appeared to be for the worse. Deron Johnson's bases-empty homer in the second and Leo Cardenas' two-run shot in the top of the fourth put Marichal behind 3-2.

Then, in the last of the fourth, Jesus Alou singled across the tying run and Brown, battling seventh in the line-up, sent the Giants ahead to stay with his three-run blast off Milt Pappas.

In Tuesday's other NL action, the third-place Los Angeles Dodgers shaded Atlanta 8-7, St. Louis blanked Houston 3-0 on Bob Gibson's three-hitter and the New York Mets trimmed Chicago 4-1.

Marichal gave up eight hits in boosting his season mark to 18-

Pro Football History To Be Made Tonight?

By The Associated Press

Pro football history will be made tonight if the new Miami Dolphins of the American Football League win their first game ever by defeating the Denver Broncos at Memphis, Tenn.

"The brand new babies" of the AFL, as part-owner Danny Thomas refers to the Dolphins, aren't expected to do so, however, even though the exhibition game pairs two winless teams.

The Broncos, beaten by Buffalo and Kansas City, still are regarded as stronger than the Dolphins, trounced by San Diego, Kansas City and the New York Jets.

"We're not supposed to beat these teams yet," Thomas said. "The Dolphins need time to grow up. We're the brand new babies."

The game gets this week's exhibition schedule off to an early start since the Broncos play again on Sunday afternoon at home against Oakland in a nationally televised game over the NBC network.

A sellout crowd of more than 30,000 is expected to see the National Football League double-header at Cleveland Friday night.

Minnesota meets Washington in the first game with the Cleveland Browns taking on the Baltimore Colts in the second which will be televised over the CBS network.

Eight games are listed for Saturday, five in the NFL and three in the AFL. The New York Giants and the Philadelphia Eagles play at Princeton, N.J., Saturday afternoon. Saturday night, Pittsburgh is at Green Bay, St. Louis at Los Angeles, Dallas and Detroit tangle at Tulsa and San Francisco meets Atlanta at Columbia, S.C.

Houston is at Kansas City, Boston at San Diego and Buffalo battles the New York Jets at Allentown, Pa., in the three AFL Saturday night exhibitions.

There were several deals Tuesday as clubs in both leagues cut down their rosters.

The Cleveland Browns traded fullback Charley Scales to Atlanta for a future draft choice. Dallas dealt guard Jake Kupp to Washington for a future draft choice. Green Bay sent halfback Ron Rector to Washington for a draft choice. San Francisco dealt guard Steve Barnett to Pittsburgh, also for a draft choice.

Veteran tackle Roosevelt Brown was placed on the injured reserve list by the New York Giants of the NFL. The 34-year-old Brown will be out for the entire season because of phlebitis in his right leg.

Chance, McDowell Are Back In Form

By The Associated Press

Dean Chance and Sam McDowell spent the last two months in something of a pitcher's limbo. Two of the top hurlers in the American League, they had managed three victories between them.

Then, just as suddenly as they faded away, the two pitchers reversed field and now they look like themselves again. James Bond might even have trouble with this mystery.

McDowell signaled the end of the dry spell with a three-hit shutout against Chicago last Friday. Then the Cleveland left-hander came back with a 2-1 six-hitter against American League-leading Baltimore Tuesday night.

Not to be outdone, Chance fired a three-hitter as California shaded New York 1-0.

Rocky Colavito's 28th home run proved to be the winning run for McDowell, who had the Orioles shut out until the eighth inning.

"I'm slowly getting my control back," said McDowell, who suffered with arm trouble after winning four games before the season was a month old.

Chance, 34½, managed to smile through his trouble. "I'll be a candidate for Comeback of the Year," the Angel right-hander said, "next year."

Meanwhile, Jim Kaat, who has flourished despite the de-

Soccer League Has 11 Teams

CHICAGO (AP)—The newly formed North America Soccer League boosted its membership to 11 teams Tuesday and announced a 13th and final franchise will be granted at its next meeting Oct. 5.

Franchises were granted to Detroit, Houston and Cleveland Tuesday when James P. McGuire of New York was named league president.

Charter members are Boston, Chicago, Los Angeles, New York, San Francisco, Toronto, Vancouver, and Washington, D.C.

The league will meet again in October when five applications including Milwaukee will be screened to pick a 12th member to complete the league. The identity of the other applicants was not revealed.

The Detroit franchise is headed by William Clay Ford, Edwin J. Anderson, Wendell Anderson and other Detroit sportsmen.

Judge Roy Hofheinz of the famed Astro group and Cleveland is headed by "prominent citizens whose names will be announced shortly," said Art Allyn, owner of the Chicago entry.

McGuire is a native of Scotland and played with the Glasgow Celtics and North Hampton in England before coming to this country in 1926.

McGuire is former president of the American Soccer League and the U.S. Soccer Football Association. Since 1954 he has been an executive manager of the Federation of International Football Associations and has been part of the organizing committee for World Cup competition.

Card of Thanks

Gouin

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the many friends, neighbors and relatives who by acts of kindness and sympathy aided and comforted us in the death of our beloved father and grandfather, Oliver Gouin, Esq., who passed away on August 22, 1966. We are especially grateful to the members of St. Anne's Altar Society, Isabella, those who sent spiritual bouquets and floral offerings, the choir and all others who aided. We also wish to thank Fr. Joseph O. Gouin, grandson of the deceased, Fr. Joseph Charlebois and Fr. Robert Kennedy for their words of comfort. Your kind deeds will never be forgotten.

The Family of Oliver Gouin

Williams

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to all my friends and relatives who remembered me with cards and gifts while I was a patient at Bellin Memorial Hospital in Green Bay.

In Memoriam

Beaudin

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Clifford Beaudin, who passed away 12 years ago today, August 24th. We mourn the loss of one we loved. We did our best to save. Beloved in life, regretted still. Remembered in his grave. No more upon this earth. We'll see his gentle loving face. There is not one in the wide world. Can ever take his place.
